

Second Foreigners Roundtable: Goals for Integration

-December 6, 18:00 at Baštová 343/5-

Meet one of our special guests!

Ana Lucía Olivos was born in Lima, Perú and she has been living in Barcelona for 27 years, she is a political Scientist with two master degrees in International Cooperation and Immigration Management.

Ana Lucia has a vast experience in international migration projects with the International Organization for Migration (IOM) and Barcelona's municipality. Currently, Ana Lucia has worked as a job counselor for migrants and refugees to support their labor market integration. During her free time, Ana Lucia participates in different activities and projects to raise awareness and to promote interculturality in the city of Barcelona.

First roundtable feedback

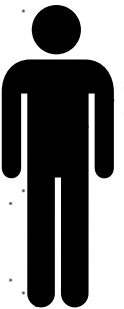

It is good for foreigners living in Slovakia to be able to make their voice heard at a time when the public discourse on topics related to migration in this country is at substandard level dominated by hate speech instead of a factual approach to reality.

Dragu Anca

I liked the first roundtable. I was just wondering during whether not everybody was already aware about the elections, but then it turned out everybody only knew a little bit so it was helpful.
